

FINED $1 FOR DRIVING FAST

H. C. Billings Says He Speeded Up to Keep
From Hitting a Man.

H. C. Billings, one of the proprietors of the American Dairy lunch, who testified that during the four years he had run an automobile he had only struck a pig, was fined $1 and costs of court by Judge Adrian Pool in the police court Friday afternoon. Billings was arrested Thursday afternoon on a charge of reckless and fast driving.

Lieut. John P. Adams, of the 22d infantry, testified that he was on the street car at a point somewhere near Washington park on July 4. He said that he saw an automobile coming in the direction of town going at the rate of 10 or 15 miles an hour. Soon after this, the witness stated, he saw another car coming from the rear and going in the same direction. This car, he said, was going easily at the rate of from 30 to 40 miles an hour. The fast car passed the first one, going between it and the street car. Soon after this the witness said he saw a man struck and knocked down by the automobile, which had been passed. Of this car he said he took the name of the driver, which was J. W. Boreland. The witness did not know the name of the driver of the fast car. Billings then took the stand, "I see that I made a mistake by not having my witnesses here," he said. "I have had my car about a month. I saw the slow car. I noticed the man and saw he was going to cross."

"I have driven a car for four years, and the only thing I ever hit was a pig. I had to speed up in order to miss the man. I was going on two wheels. When I passed, I looked back, and I saw the other car strike the man. I said: 'Poor fellow; the other car has struck him.' 'Did you stop?' 'I go back,' inquired Volney Brown, the prosecuting attorney."

"No, I did not do that. I know I would have to go to court if I did, and all that sort of thing. I had to get back to my business. My counter men were off for the Fourth."

"Then a human life was not as valuable to you as your business?" asked the attorney.

"Well, I didn't strike the man. I had to speed up to dodge him."

As the judge was marking down the fine of $1, he said: "I am fining you $1, and if you do not like that, I will fine you $5." The defendant said nothing. Good time at Sierra Blanca.

FINE FOR COLLINS

Dr. Ira J. Collins was sentenced to one day in jail and given a fine of $200 in county court Saturday on a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

The complaint was made by R. H. Fouch, who alleged that Collins had treated him for blood poisoning, had charged him $2 for the treatment and that he had no license. Collins will appeal the case.

TWO FINED $25; THREE CRIMINALS DISCHARGED.

Following the announcement that the Mexicans, millionaires of Chihuahua, who had cursed the "Gringos," would be tried on the charge of using abusive language and being drunk, the corporation court Friday afternoon was taxed to its capacity.

Despite the fact that they had been warned they might be fined the limit, at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, the defendants, Luis Terrazas, Jr., Francisco Terrazas, Dr. F. J. Molinar, Sebastian Dufflo, J. R. Sozalla, appeared unconcerned in court. Some of the defendants smoked thin cigarettes during the process of the trial.

After the judge heard the testimony he fined Luis Terrazas and Dr. Molinar $25 each, and dismissed the cases against the other three defendants.

Jasper Williamson, a messenger boy in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph company, had his bicycle stolen on July 2. Williamson had to buy a new wheel. Saturday morning Jesus Alva was found riding the lost wheel. Alva told chief of police I. N. Davis that he had bought it from an American boy at the smelter for $2.50 on the afternoon of July 2. Alva is being held by the police pending the outcome of the investigations now being made.

The Lost and Found.

"I will be ever grateful to the Want Columns for the return of an article of jewelry, an heirloom, that I lost one evening, and which was returned to me the next evening."

You have heard such expressions from many who have had practical experience with the remarkable efficiency of the Want Columns in recovering lost articles.

One great convenience of the Wants in returning lost articles is the fact that they work so quickly. A few hours after you send your Want Ads to The El Paso Herald, telling of a lost article, thousands of people are reading the Wants, and the losers and finders of lost articles, naturally enough, are the first to make a critical examination of the lost and found classification.

Chicago, Ill., July 6.—Broad smiles and fat cigars adorned the faces of the hundreds of negro admirers of Jack Johnson who today welcomed the champion heavyweight pugilist home from Las Vegas, where on July 4 he smothered the hopes of Jim Flynn.

"Flynn was easy," Johnson told the crowd that surged around him. "I had planned to knock him out in the tenth round, but the police interfered."

Johnson said he would fight Al Palzer on Labor Day and bet $20,000 that he would win.

Federal authorities are prepared to resist the smuggering charge, upon which Johnson recently was indicted.

He refused to discuss it.

REBELS PERMIT THE CROSSING OF CATTLE

The cattle which were held up by the rebel officials in Juarez Friday were released late in the day and were imported to this side. The cattle belonged to the Pittman and the Parker cattle companies and had been brought to the border from the Galeana district over the Mexico North Western road. In all there were 17 car loads of stock.

The cattle were held up for the cattle tax, which the rebels said had not been paid, but the owners of the stock claimed it had been paid in Casas Grandes, but for which they had not received any written receipts.

What Hairdressers NEVER TELL YOU

IS there any hope for the baldheaded man? Not if he has too much faith in fakes.

Ordinary baldness—the common or front row kind—is one of the necessary acceptances of age. The average man commences to lose his head hair about the age of forty.

There are many men who begin to notice the loss at a much earlier age. This, in the absence of real disease, is generally an inherited predisposition. If a man's father or grandfather became bald early in life he will usually show this trait himself. But here is what you can do to forestall this tendency. Begin early in life—before thirty years of age—to keep your scalp absolutely clean. Remember that there is nothing known that will cause new roots of hair to grow. But frequently it is only the shafts of the hair that disappear, and if the scalp is properly treated when this is going on, you can so stimulate the glands around the roots that they will be nourished and send forth new shafts.

What will do this? After cleansing the scalp with a pure soap, rub into it bichloride of mercury, gra. v; alcohol and distilled water, each two ounces. Mix this and apply about every two days. If this takes too much oil from the hair, rub in a little olive oil.

But remember that gradual loss of the hair is one of the penalties we pay for our civilization. Some eminent authorities claim this to be the real cause. Then, again, men do not take the same care of their scalps as girls or women. A man generally waits until middle life before thinking about it. Then it is too late.

The life of each single hair is about three years. They are constantly being replaced by new hairs. Now, when the barber shows you some hairs on the comb and tells you that your hair is falling out—so that he can sell you some "hair tonic"—just tell him you know it; that about fifty hairs a day must fall out to make room for the new hairs. If you have not carefully brushed your hair for a day or so he will have quite a lot of cast-off hairs to show you. You commence to worry. Worry upsets your physical balance, and then we have another frequent cause for hurrying on the natural process of baldness.

Anything which causes a lowering of the body tone will affect the strength of the hair roots. So see to it before applying anything to your scalp that your physical condition is of the best. Getting back into the best of health will do more for your hair than all the barbers' "tonics," massage or other methods.

Don't use cantharides in any form. Don't let the barber singe your hair. If the ends are splitting, have these ends clipped by scissors. Singeing often results in too much heat getting down the shafts of the hairs and thus destroying their activity.

The idea that roasting, late hours and all those conditions which go with "seeing the town" is a cause of baldness is not true in its direct meaning. Such a life means a deterioration of general health and this certainly affects the tone of the hair as well as that of other parts of the body. Then, again, such a life means that you may perhaps contract a disease which denudes the scalp in a few days.

The man who at fifty wants a good head of hair should commence to care for it at thirty. There is nothing so laughable as well as pitiable as to see a man of sixty trying through dyes and false hair to look thirty—he will look to the good woman like eighty years of age—in his dotage. All hair dyes contain lead. Lead is a poison and readily absorbed by the skin.

Heat or cold have the same effect upon the skin. The barber who first thought of applying a hot towel to the face did not know this physiologic fact. Planch a tender skin and what is the effect? Black and blue spots, of course. The skin contains the finest blood vessels. They are so tender that the slightest squeeze breaks them. The blood from the veins runs out under the skin and remains there until absorbed. This little mass of blood is the cause of the black and blue spots. In some persons constant gorging and drinking breaks the vessels from inside pressure; hence those blotched faces and over-red noses. The heat due to the over-distended vessels is the cause of the pressure.

If a hot towel is applied to the healthy skin of the face we bring about analogous conditions. The tiny blood vessels become distended. This is only temporary, to be sure, but kept up day after day the complexion will be ruined. The vessels of the skin cannot get back their elastic tone.

Facial massage works about the same way. Kept up it will result in injured vessels and the power to keep a natural complexion will be gone forever.

Facial massage under certain circumstances is all proper enough, but should be permitted only occasionally. It will not permanently remove wrinkles; it will not make an old face young, and does just the wrong thing in trying to remove fat and dirt by squeezing from the outside instead of assisting nature, who always tries to force out dirt and poisons from the inside. Perspiration is a good example of this fact.

The best way to stop wrinkles in the face is to stop wrinkling thoughts.

Actors and actresses who are obliged to apply grease and paint to their skins must get it off by washing and massage. It is put on outside, and this is the way it must come off.

The best facial massage is a good, honest laugh.

Procure a little collomia seed. Take one of the seeds and with a razor cut off a very thin slice, place it on a slide, cover with a glass and place under the microscope. The instrument must be in a vertical position. When it is well focused and lighted, moisten it with a drop of water. The seed will absorb the moisture and throw out a very large number of spiral fibers, giving the appearance of veritable germination. Beginners will find it easier if one applies the moisture while the other looks through the instrument.—Exchange.

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alternative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes Mr. MICHAEL MAGUIRE, of National Military Home, Kansas. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1897 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward I felt them coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or ague since. That is all of twenty years ago, for I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"
